INSURGENTS MARCH ON BARCELONA

TRANSFER SEAT OF GOVERNMENT 70 MILES AWAY

Spanish Ministers to Leave Barcelona by Night

BULLETIN
Barcelona, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Many government ministries left Barcelona today for the north this morning.

With an icy wind blowing, refugees crowded the streets leading out of the city. Bombs crashed from the sky at brief intervals as the insurgent air force heavily attacked the city for the fourth successive day.

Insurgent officials prepared to send some of their nationalists out of the war-torn Barcelona area.

Government departments began withdrawing from the city despite the cabinet's recent announcement that it would remain in Barcelona.

Dispatches to the French foreign office said the new capital would be established at Gerona or Figueras, 50 and 70 miles respectively northeast of Barcelona.

Newspaper headlines screamed "Barcelona in Danger!"

Electricity, water and telephone services became erratic although they were not completely shut off.

Barcelona residents had little sleep during the night. Many were preparing luggage for departure. Others reported to assist in building new fortifications.

Paris, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Dispatches to the French foreign office said that members of the Spanish government began this morning their withdrawal from their so-called capital, Barcelona.

The French government was informed that the seat of government would be transferred to Gerona or Figueras, respectively, 50 and 70 miles northeast of Barcelona and near the French border.

At noon with the onrushing insurgent armies only seven miles from the city, most of the government ministers were still in Barcelona but were expected to leave during the afternoon, the dispatches said.

The ministers were gathering ready for shipment to the north and destroying those which could not be taken along with them conveniently.

It was pointed out that until the ministers assemble in another city and the government publishes a decree changing its capital, the official residence of the Spanish republic, Premier Juan Negrin remains in Barcelona.

It was expected that transfer of the Negrin cabinet would be completed tonight.

Recommend Delay in Freedom of Philippines

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt submitted to congress for its consideration today the report of the joint preparatory committee on Philippine affairs recommending postponement from 1946 to 1960 of economic independence for the Philippines.

Mr. Roosevelt said the report, made public last November, had the approval as well as that of the senate.

It proposes gradual elimination of existing trade privileges, beginning in 1946, to permit the island republic to adjust its economy to the normal condition of a completely-free country having to pay in full tariffs the United States demands of other nations.

Full duties on her exports to this country finally would be levied 14 years after political independence was granted in 1946.

The report was prepared by a committee appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Quezon.

The American group was headed by John Van A. MacMurray, American ambassador to Turkey.

In his message, the President merely said:

"I transmit herewith for the consideration of the congress the report of the joint preparatory committee on Philippine affairs appointed by President Quezon and myself to recommend a program for the adjustment of Philippine national economy."

"This report was made public on November 29, 1938. It has my approval and the approval of President Quezon as indicated in the press announcement, copies of which are attached, made on the date of publication of the report."

TEST PILOT IS VICTIM OF AIR CRASH IN WEST

French Airman Is Injured; Presence is Unexplained

Los Angeles, Jan. 24.—(AP)—High-ranking army officers sought a cause today for the flaming crash of the nation's newest light bomber, which killed its test pilot and seriously injured a French airman, whose presence on the ill-fated flight was unexplained.

Douglas Aircraft Corp., builder of the metal twin-engine, three-seater, geared plane, admitted it was being groomed for war department competition at Dayton, Ohio.

Refuse Explanation
But company officials first gave an incorrect identity and then refused explanation as to why Paul Chemidlin, 33, of the French air ministry, accompanied Test Pilot John Cable, 35, when the secretly-designed bomber took off yesterday.

A half-hour of difficult aerial maneuvers, and then Cable apparently took one engine preparatory to climbing trials at half-power. From a low altitude, the plane fell into a steep verticle bank, seemingly out of control.

Cable's parachute failed to open as he plummeted to earth. Chemidlin stayed with the plane as it crashed into a parking lot near North-American Aviation company's plant at Los Angeles municipal airport.

Nine Autos Demolished
Nine automobiles were demolished and 10 persons, including four women, slightly hurt by the flying wreckage. Planes flared from the crumpled bomber, but Chemidlin, one leg broken, his back wrenched and head battered, was dragged to safety.

Douglas released his name as "Smith—a mechanic." Secretary was imposed on him at Santa Monica hospital, where he was removed for treatment.

BOHMKER TELLS WHAT EUROPE THINKS OF US

Doesn't Think War
Will Come Within
40 Years

"The American people are gangsters, hoodlums and money-chasers. This is the opinion of Europeans," according to John C. Bohmker, superintendent of the Bradley Manufacturing company, who at yesterday's Kiwanis luncheon, described his recent journeys in Europe and Africa.

He said that Europeans regard Americans as "boobs," disorganized "embryonic in handling economic problems" and selfish in taking the credit for the allied victory in the world.

Europeans speak of the United States, Mr. Bohmker continued, as having failed economically because many of its people are starving and because there are 13,000,000 unemployed, in spite of being the richest country in the world, nearly self-sufficient and having 80 per cent of the world's monetary gold.

Hard to Understand
They are unable to understand how there could be any unity in this nation, the speaker said, because they think in terms of nationalism and can't conceive of Irish, English, French, German and Swedish people living side by side.

"What are Americans doing for the world and themselves? Why didn't they interfere in the crisis regarding Czechoslovakia? Why didn't they come into the war zone, because it was their war? Why do they bother us with war debts?"

Mr. Bohmker offered the prediction there won't be an European war for 40 years and gave the reason thus: "Because the statesmen are thinking now, not in terms of politics and races, but in terms of economics."

In 1919 Woodrow Wilson told us there could be a United States of Europe. We know now that is impossible. But there can be a united Europe in economics."

They Like Crises
He said that the development of crises after crisis in Europe is "just plain poker," and that in the democratic countries they are the only means of arousing the people to action. Rearmament, he said, is just another means of keeping unemployment down.

He expressed the opinion that "Germany will never collapse from outside influences. Its collapse will come from revolution."

Leaky Stove Sets House Afire Here

Firemen were called at 5:47 o'clock this morning to the residence of Loren Kibbons, 2228 West Station street, where a kerosene stove had overflowed, burned a hole through the floor and caught basement rafters on fire while occupants of the house slept.

The blaze was quickly put out by firemen who confined the loss to the flooring and damage by smoke.

At 5:20 o'clock last evening one truck answered an alarm at Merchant and Evergreen avenues where the auto of Harry Haak of 1256 East Maple street was thought to be ablaze. It was found that he had been driving with the brakes partially set.

Bitter Cold in New England

By the Associated Press
Relief from bitter cold arrived in the east today while high winds and fresh snow whipped up drifts in the middle-west.

At least 30 deaths were reported from both sides of the Atlantic, whipped by perilous gales. In London, Lloyd's received word that three of 15 ships, which had 208 sign, were reported as being downed from ports, but the others were unheard from.

British warships and airplanes searched the English channel for a British bomber, missing since yesterday with six airmen aboard.

New deaths attributed to the severe cold winter highway dangers in the United States included: those of a man found frozen to death at LaPorte, Ind.; a woman killed near Shelbyville, Ind., as an automobile skidded on an icy road; a 55-year old man who froze to death while walking to his home at Dunmore, Pa.

Mercury Climbs
The mercury climbed about 22 degrees since yesterday in New England. Greenville, Me. had eight above zero compared with 14 below yesterday.

Temperatures generally were in the 20's in Michigan, where new snow was reported from several points. Snow whipped over most of Indiana during last night and more was predicted today.

A high wind and snow limited visibility in northwestern Iowa, where the snow ranged from 2 1/2 to 4 inches on the ground. Temperatures were from 17 to 34 degrees.

Wisconsin enjoyed seasonable weather but another cold wave was reported—on the way. Ohio had normal weather after slight snow last night.

FRANCO'S ARMY NOW WITHIN TEN MILES OF CITY

Steady Drive to Capital: Foreigners
Evacuating

BULLETIN
Burgos, Spain, Jan. 24.—(UP)—Seven Nationalist divisions are at the gates of Barcelona and meeting virtually no resistance, the Nationalist military headquarters announced at 6 p. m. tonight.

Barcelona, Jan. 24.—(UP)—Insurgent leaders declared today that their forces had achieved "a complete break" in government defenses directly before Barcelona and that the fall of the government capital was regarded as a matter of hours.

Insurgent officers insisted that the "entire line" of enemy defenses along the Llobregat and Cardener rivers, described as the last line on which the government had tried to organize strong resistance, was in the hands of Generalissimo Franco's troops this morning.

(At some points the Llobregat is only four miles from Barcelona's western suburb.)

Navarrese and Moorish troops carrying the red and gold banners of insurgent Spain were reported in sight of the city, into which Franco's big guns began hurling shells.

On the Llobregat front, disintegrating shells, thousands of the shells, took up positions and the Nationalist military government leaders from their headquarters.

Hendaye, France. (At The Spanish Frontier), Jan. 24.—(AP)—Spanish insurgent forces today announced the encirclement of the town of Gava, only seven miles from Barcelona proper, and said the Spanish government's capital was under the direct fire of their artillery.

While Generalissimo Franco's column driving along the coast from the southwest bore down on its objective and insurgent inland forces converged on the city from the west, Barcelona was being evacuated by government ministries and the civilian population.

The government armies, however, remained before the city, defending it to the last.

To reach Gava the insurgent forces surged up the Mediterranean coast from the conquered port of Tarragona through numerous towns dotting the shore. Gava is the site of an American radiator company factory taken over by the Spanish government early in the war.

Insurgent bombers flying ahead of the land forces raided Barcelona repeatedly in a campaign evidently designed to break resistance of the government troops.

Hall Of Bombs
Before noon today the city had been bombed six times.

SECRETARY OF LABOR, PERKINS, FACES INQUIRY

Resolution Suggests Impeachment of Two Others

Washington, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Rep. Thomas (D-N.J.) introduced today to the house today a resolution directing the judiciary committee to investigate the official conduct of Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, with a view to impeachment.

The measure also suggested the impeachment of James L. Hough, secretary of the Federal Reserve bank, and Gerard D. Reilly, labor department solicitor.

Citing testimony before a house committee which investigated American activities, Thomas' resolution contended the three "were and are guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors in office" in failing to carry out deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, west coast C. I. O. leader.

Charge Conspiracy
Thomas said Miss Perkins, Hough, Reilly and Reilly had "conspired to defer and to defeat the deportation."

Secretary Perkins quickly issued a statement, declaring she would ask for an immediate hearing to inform the country of the "true facts" in the Bridges case.

"I welcome the introduction of the resolution," she said, "and shall ask for an immediate hearing before the committee to which it may be referred."

Noted Artists Please Kankakee Audience

Music, vocal and violin, presented by gifted artists, was heard by those attending the second concert of the season sponsored by the Women's club Monday evening at the high school auditorium.

The concert, though decidedly different in character, composition and performers was definitely on a par with the excellence established in the first program when the Vienna Choir boys were heard.

The musicians last evening were Miss Lillian Knowles, English contralto who has been heard with many of the great orchestras of this country, and Michael Witkowski, Polish-Russian violinist, whose recent appearances have been confined to concert work and with a radio concert orchestra. That the audience appreciated their artistry was evidenced by the sustained applause which greeted every selection.

Fine Interpretation
To every selection she sang Miss Knowles brought a distinctive interpretation. Her first group included German lieder by Brahms and Schumann and the famous Agnus Dei by Beethoven which has merit.

And the praise of every critic hearing her. Her operatic aria was the famous Habenera from Carmen in the original key made colorful and exciting by her charming interpretation.

Her second group was sung in English and included an old English song arranged by Quilter, "To the Children" by Bachman; "Dont Cry" by Carpenter; Chamade's "The Silver Ring" and Bartlett's well known "Take Joy Home."

Those who have been privileged to hear great violinists in concert found nothing amiss in the program presented by Wilkomirski. Tone quality, a beautiful instrument and the technique of the artist combined to make each selection literally ring.

Composer's Dream
His first concert piece of the season, "The Devil's Trill" by Tchaikovsky, said to have been written by the composer following a dream in which the devil sat on his bed and played the violin. He, too, demonstrated why he has been so loved by many famous orchestras, including the Chicago Symphony, in the other selections of his program.

Habenera by Sarasate, the descriptive "Fountain of Arcturus" by Beethoven in which the violinist caught the tinkling of water from a spring, and Saint-Saens' "Ronde Capricieuse" completed his program.

Not the least of the program was the splendid accompaniments played by Harry Sukman.

Mrs. A. E. Dean, chairman of the concert series, stated last night that announcement would be made soon of the next concert.

Her second group was sung in

Mayors of London and New York Have Chat Over the Air

New York, Jan. 24.—(AP)—With the same privacy a glass house would afford, the mayors of London and New York talked to each other today across an expanse of 3,000 miles to-day about the weather, the New York world's fair and many other things.

Old and new world contacts were defined as he drove from a radio telephone conversation with thousands of American radio listeners, welcome eavesdroppers.

London's lord mayor, Mayor Sir Frank H. Birkwater, chatted from his state car as he drove from the opening of city parliament.

The "other end of the line" was a spot on a bicycle path in Central park where New York's chief executive, Fiorello H. La Guardia, was in his automobile en route to city hall.

The mayor of New York invited the lord mayor of London to the New York world's fair opening in April.

The lord mayor declined, with regrets.

Franco's Army—

Air raiders flew above the capital while anti-aircraft batteries thundered without ceasing.

A hail of bombs, particularly on the thickly-populated lower quarter of Barcelona around the port, crumpled entire blocks of buildings and took many victims, but the capital remained calm, dispatches said.

Earlier today border detachments said the insurgents' coastal command had been halted about 12 miles from Barcelona while that approaching from the west still was 10 miles from the capital.

From the southern army, following the highway up the coast, was said to have been brought virtually to a standstill in the mountains of Castelldefels by defiant militiamen who clung to positions in the Garraf mountains overlooking the Mediterranean.

But the left wing of this column circled these mountains, and laid siege to the little village of San Jose, nine and a half miles southwest of Barcelona. The village lies on a hill above the Llobregat river, dominating the coastal highway and the highway to the west.

Evacuation Rushed
Generalissimo Francisco Franco's army, approaching from the east, was reported fighting its way into the highway town of Martorell, 10 miles from Barcelona.

(Government officials in Barcelona were counting on their forces to hold off the insurgents until the capital's defenses could be organized under the new martial law orders issued yesterday.

The evacuation of non-combatants and foreigners was proceeding under constant danger of the heavy aerial bombardment to which the city had been subjected during the past days.

The United States cruiser Omaha was enroute from Villafraanca, Spain, to Calcutta to take American citizens out of the war zone.

Meanwhile, the insurgents pressed the drive to sever highways leading from Barcelona to the French border.

The capture of Manresa, 30 miles northwest of Barcelona, was announced by the insurgents during the afternoon.

One of the government's railway lifelines to France, said that Martorell, 10 miles west-northwest of the capital, had been fully occupied.

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ, Jr.,
Peripatetic, France, Jan. 24.—The "Lost Legion" of foreign volunteers who formerly fought with the Spanish government, including the Americans, were rushed from Barcelona toward the French border today before the advance of the insurgent armies.

They got the designation "Lost Legion" because they were stranded for weeks in central Spain after being mustered out of the government army.

Their Finnish general, B. Jander, chief of the international military commission supervising the evacuation, said the group would cross into France tomorrow morning.

He explained money guaranteeing passage home for all was deposited would not be hampered by French restrictions on refugees.

France, meanwhile, adopted extraordinary police measures.

Emergency precautions were taken in an area extending 125 miles inland from the Mediterranean and some distance north from the border.

On all main and secondary roads in that zone Prefect Rogi Didon established mobile guard barriers which were in addition to the permanent regular army posts.

Under Didon's plans, the whole southern section of the eastern French department of Pyrénées-Orientales was turned into a zone through which refugees must not pass except under guard.

Under previous cruises of refugees, after the fall of Bilbao and during the fighting in Catalonia, the French government had refused to take in a single refugee.

Under the new policy, the frontier was kept open to the north, and the job is to make the frontier a safe zone for the refugees.

On the other hand, he said, Berlin appears prosperous and the people seem to be content. Everyone is working steadily and the economy is streamlined and one sees plenty of money and luxury.

The speaker was presented by Romy Hammes, program chairman and the club's treasurer was expressed by C. F. Koehler.

Guests at the meeting were E. S. Lecker, Mrs. Arthur Mann, Mrs. Harold Troup, W. W. Martin, Koehler and H. W. Hartup.

Horningsham Congregational church is the oldest free church in England. It was built more than 200 years ago.

Buried treasure, however, has been found in the ruins of the church. The job is to make the frontier a safe zone for the refugees.

River Marshes Being Restored as Game Haven

Restoration of the Kankakee river marshes to their natural condition, some years ago is reported by conservation experts to be gradually creating one of the nation's most desirable game preserves.

Famous at one time as a water-hole and resting place for migratory wildfowl, the Kankakee marsh was drained for agricultural purposes and most of the soil was found too sandy for profitable farming.

The drained ground was abandoned and gradually reverted to a wild state. However, levees and drainage pipes prevented water from returning to the region.

Added by CCC

In recent years Indiana set up a game reservation near DeMotte, south of the Kankakee River, through aid of the Civilian Conservation Corps. There remained much wasteland near the farm.

and as a result work of restoration of the marsh was started.

The restoration had a fender, but the fender, according to Louis, had a habit of very annoying one in the road.

American Medical Association Will Fight Indictment

Washington, Jan. 24—(AP)—The American medical association will begin a fight in federal court tomorrow to quash an indictment accusing it, along with some of its members and affiliates, of monopolistic practices.

While congressmen are studying the vast national health program submitted yesterday by President Roosevelt, the A.M.A. will try to show that it did not conspire to restrain trade in opposing Group Health, Inc., an association of federal employees providing medical service for a monthly fee.

The court hearing will be on a motion to question grand jurors about the evidence which government attorneys presented in a secret nine-week inquiry.

The question of prepaid medical service raised indirectly by the A.M.A. indictment is expected to become the major controversy in congressional discussion of the proposed national health program.

It is the only phase of the program, drafted by a presidential committee, with which the A.M.A. took issue. The other committee recommendations involved extension of public health research and facilities, along with additional hospitals, and improved care of the indigent.

In regard to public medical service, the committee proposed that wage earners receive care from doctors of their own choice after paying a compulsory fee of about $25 a year into a state or county fund. Whether this would be open to all persons, or only to those in lower income groups, would have to be determined later.

Has Baby a Nasty Cold?

Relieve the misery as most mothers do.

Rub baby's back, chest, and throat with Vicks VapoRub and tuck him deep into bed. What a comfort to know that VapoRub goes to work right away to relieve the misery of his cold without "dosing"—without risk of stomach upsets. And what a comfort to know that long after restful sleep comes, VapoRub will still be working—two ways at once—direct through the skin like a poultice, and direct to the irritated air-passages with its medicated vapors. You'll find that, often by morning, the worst of the cold is over.

Ever Wonder Why You're Constipated?

Do you ever have days when you just have to drag yourself along, when you feel tired, sunk—because of that constipation? Then why not find out the real cause of your trouble?

What have you had to eat lately? Just things like meat, bread and potatoes? If that's it, you may not have to look any farther. It's likely your trouble is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and aids elimination.

If "bulk" is what you lack, your ticket is a dish of crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Brans for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B.

Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regulars." Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
